

TOWARDS A BUSINESS-FRIENDLY EU CLIMATE AND ENERGY POLICY

29 January 2014, 16h30-18h00
European Parliament (Room 6Q2) Brussels

On 22 January, the European Commission will present its much-anticipated package on the EU's energy and climate framework for 2030, along with the Communication for a European Industrial Renaissance. Against this background, the aim of this high-level policy dialogue is to discuss what energy and climate targets for 2030 are economically justifiable, how to avoid negative impacts on competitiveness and energy prices, and how to effectively address carbon leakage.

AGENDA

OPENING REMARKS

---

- Paul Rübig, MEP, ITRE-member
- Richard Weber, President of EUROCHAMBRES

PANEL DISCUSSION moderated by Arnaldo Abruzzini (followed by Q&A)

---

- Hans Bergman, HoU, DG Climate Action, European Commission
- Claude Turmes, MEP, EP shadow rapporteur
- Eija-Riitta Korhola, MEP, ENVI-member
- Bernhard Kohl, Voestalpine

CONCLUDING REMARKS

- Arnaldo Abruzzini, Secretary General of EUROCHAMBRES

COCKTAIL RECEPTION

---

Please note that, due to Parliament security procedures, registration is required before 28 January.

REGISTER HERE

Participants who require an access badge to the European Parliament must be present at 16h00 at the entrance to the Spinelli building on Place Luxembourg. Please bring with you formal proof of your identity. Participants who already have access to the European Parliament, can directly go to room JAN 6Q2 where the event will take place.